LeadingAge®

Philadelphia Professional Football Cheerleader Alumni,

Every one of us hopes to grow older with dignity, purpose, and the support of a caring community. That's the future LeadingAge works to create.

LeadingAge is a national organization of nonprofit organizations and mission-driven leaders who have dedicated their lives to serving older adults. Our members don't measure success by profits—they measure it by lives touched, families supported, and moments of compassion that help people age with independence, joy, and respect.

Our Annual Meeting is unlike any other conference. It brings together thousands of leaders who share one common purpose: making life better for older adults. It's where groundbreaking ideas are exchanged, lasting partnerships are formed, and inspiration turns into action that reaches communities across the country.

When you agree to perform at the LeadingAge Annual Meeting, you're doing more than bringing joy to an audience. You're supporting a gathering that equips the people who care for our parents, grandparents, neighbors—and someday, ourselves. Your time and talent will help create an experience that inspires thousands of caregivers to return home with renewed purpose.

Together, we're not just creating a conference. We're helping shape a future where every person can age with dignity, purpose, and hope.

With Gratitude,

Sharon Sullivan
